WHY SALES LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Markets have shifted.
Customers are more informed.
Buying cycles are longer.
Trust is harder to earn.
And growth is no longer guaranteed.

Any salesman who would win must do things differently.

The Sales Leadership Conference is a high-impact, practical, and strategic gathering for sales leaders who must deliver results across complex, competitive, and fast-changing industries.

This is not motivation.

This is modern sales leadership, built for Africa's realities.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Senior and mid level sales leaders with 2 or more years experience

B2B, Technology, Oil & Gas, Services

If you lead people, manage numbers, or influence revenue
this one is for you.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

Sales People: Practical ways to find, engage and close customers faster, effectively and sustainably

Sales Leaders: How elite sales leaders are delivering consistent growth without burning out their people or damaging trust.

You will gain:

- Practical frameworks you can deploy immediately
- Industry-specific playbooks, not generic theory
- Proven methods for selling outcomes, not products
- Tools for handling objections, stakeholders, and complex buying committees
- Insight into how customers are changing—and how to meet them halfway
- ULTIMATELY- This will set you up to achieve 500% sales performance improvement

Key Plenary Sessions

• The 5X Consultant:

How modern sales leaders shift from selling to trusted advisory becoming indispensable to customers.

• Shifting from Selling Products to Selling Outcomes

Why buyers no longer pay for features and how to reposition your value.

• The Science of Disciplined Execution

What separates high performers from consistent winners in sales.

• Scaling Sales Without Burning Out Your People

How leaders drive performance while managing energy, morale, and outcomes.

- How Your Customers Are Changing—and How to Win Them

Understanding new buying behaviors across sectors.

- Winning From Within

Why internal alignment, mindset, and leadership discipline now determine external success.

Deep-Dive Industry Cohorts (Practical & Role-Based)

Participants will break into industry-focused cohorts, covering:

- B2B, Technology & Oil & Gas

- * Map decision-making power and access key stakeholders
- * Navigate internal politics and complex buying structures
- * Influence multi-stakeholder decisions with confidence
- * Close high-value deals in technical and enterprise environments

In complex sectors such as energy, engineering and enterprise technology.

Sales success depends on more than product knowledge, It requires a deep understanding of operational realities, regulatory pressures, capital approval processes and risk management frameworks.

Whether engaging upstream operators, mid-stream logistics providers, downstream refiners or technology integrators

The ability to align solutions with strategic priorities is critical.

Delivery

The Sales Leadership Conference has been intentionally bundled with our proprietary consultative selling program called Fundamentals of Selling Program (FSP) which is delivered on our Global Sales University (GSU) platform. This will hold for one month starting March 4.

The online learning component for Sales Leadership Conference comprises 5 modules program with a detailed assessment which participants have to pass to be qualified to get their certificate.

The Online learning starts on March 4

The physical component of the Sales Leadership Conference holds on May 1 in Lagos and May 21 in Abuja
